AMBALAYA OF TULANE

INTRODUCTION

The American University today embodies no central core, no soaring spirit. Whatever dominant symbol the historian of the future may select must be artificially super-imposed on the reality he cannot recapture. This does not imply a lack of the interesting or worthwhile, but simply the absence of any magnetic essence. Certainly our classes and assignments are not the focus. And not the athletics: here, now. No shared goals, ideals, or dorm life embrace the student body. This need not be condemnation. Viewed in terms of the diversity and diffusion of our era, a hodge-podge or grab-the-brass-ring sort of education may be fundamentally sound. With the worship of statistical success, perhaps only the representative is to be desired. And this could justify the campus leadership of the mediocre, the pusher and the pushed.

Yearbooks traditionally are ra-ra and sugar sweet. But this too is a distortion, so the JAMB is composed of recurring motifs rather than one theme. Limited by our budget and the powers that be, confined by our photographic resources and our own imagination, we have rather attempted to suggest some contrasting facets of Tulane. Such a product to be meaningful must be enriched by the attendant memories of each reader.

OUR UNIVERSITY

Mentor of the basketball team that has brought Tulane's most enthusiastic throngs, Coach Cliff Wells has amazingly improved the squad during his nine years in New Orleans. Before his advent Greenie basketball was dismal, showing the poorest record in the mediocre S.E.C. Coach Wells has brought Tulane the most improved team in the South, without adopting the victory-at-any-cost attitude of many coaches.

Spectator sports are always in the limelight. Results show an external manner impossible to most facets of the modern university. With none of the superficial braggadocio of the huckster, Coach has been one of our most valuable public relations men throughout the country. Showing his resourcefulness, quiet integrity, and technical skill, Coach Wells has performed his job in a manner to inspire the spirit of Tulane students and alumni.

The chief purpose of educational institutions, in spite of the increased enrollments and the demands of research, is attention to the individual student. Tulane constantly seeks to strengthen its work in support of this principle. More residence halls are being constructed in order to enable more out-of-town students to live on the campus. Counseling services have been developed within the residence halls and centralized in a Guidance Office at the Student Center. Moreover, recreational and cultural programs are being expanded in significant ways. I hope this JAMBALAYA may portray the variety of services and activities which make the life of the Tulane student rich in experience.

The School was organized in September of 1834 as the Medical College of Louisiana, the first medical college in the Deep South or Southwest.

The School of Medicine offers the usual four-year program leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Through its Division of Graduate Medicine the School also offers programs leading to the degrees of Master of Medical Science; Master of Public Health; Master of Public Health (Tropical Medicine); and Doctor of Public Health. A number of short courses and non-degree programs of varying length are conducted in the different specialties.

The primary objective of the College is to train students for the practice of law in Louisiana, but this is by no means its only objective. It is of advantage to all that the College remain purposely prepared to train students from any part of the United States and from any of the Latin American countries, and that the student body always include a substantial number of representatives of these last two groups. The unique legal history of Louisiana, combined with the geographical position and Latin culture of New Orleans, makes it particularly appropriate that the College should attract and serve a diversity of groups with a diversity of legal programs.

In 1886, Mrs. Josephine Louise Newcomb established Newcomb College as a memorial to her only daughter. This was the first woman's college to function within the framework of a university, a concept unique in the academic world at that time although it has been copied in many institutions since. Because of Mrs. Newcomb's wisdom and foresight, thousands of young women have known the educational benefits of such an arrangement. On their own campus they have had a full curriculum of Liberal Arts, Music, and Fine Arts, a faculty keenly interested in them as individuals, and their own self-government; whereas their association with the university has provided those manifold academic and social opportunities which blended to make their college career a memorable one. And set as it is within the cultural milieu of New Orleans, Newcomb is thus traditionally rich in its capacity to offer a truly liberal education.

The purpose of the College is to assure every student an opportunity to receive a sound general education as well as a proper basis for specialization in future activities. It is expected that some students will wish to prepare themselves for entrance into graduate or professional schools. Others will terminate their formal education with the undergraduate degree and achieve in a working situation whatever additional skills and knowledge they may require for success. In any case, the College offers its students preparation for positions of leadership and trust in their communities.

The School of Architecture is primarily concerned with and dedicated to the development of a living and vigorous native architecture for the southern region.

The school in its teaching recognizes the dangers inherent in an era of science and invention where there preoccupation with the machine and the mechanical devices available for building construction. We stress therefore the larger responsibility of architecture, the creation of a satisfactory environment for human beings. It naturally follows that the smallest complete unit is the community, and in the larger sense the entire world.

In the larger sense we seek to integrate the architect as a social human being, a good citizen of his environment large or small. Though first aims are for the south we feel that the student should be equipped to adapt their work to any region.

The Graduate School offers Courses of study leading to the degrees of Master of Arts, Master of Science, Master of Fine Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy. Graduate courses of a professional type are conducted also by the School of Business Administration, the School of Law, the School of Medicine, and the School of Social Work.

The privileges of the Graduate School are extended to properly qualified students holding Bachelor's degrees from recognized institutions, whose ability and training indicate they can profit from advanced work.

DEAN ROGER McCUTCHEON

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE

University College, evening and part-time division of the University, derives its name from the fact that it offers courses selected from the various fields of the arts, sciences and business administration as represented in various colleges of the University. Although it is primarily an evening division of the University, many of its students take day courses as well. The faculty includes some who teach full time in University College; some members selected from the regular teaching staff of the other Colleges of the University, and special lecturers who are recognized authorities in their fields.

DEAN JOHN DYER

Students enrolled in any Colleges of Tulane University or elsewhere may find in the Summer School an opportunity to schedule work which could not conveniently be fitted into their regular programs; to supplement their programs with courses of particular personal interest; to make up deficiencies or prerequisites; or to reduce the length of time required to qualify for a degree.

Courses offered in the Summer School may be applied toward degrees in the undergraduate Schools and Colleges as well as the Graduate Schools. They may likewise be credited toward entrance requirements of the School of Medicine and the College of Law.

The Newcomb Alumnae Association composed of all graduates and former students, is a means of channeling loyalties to Newcomb. Its office is housed in the Tulane Alumni House where files and pertinent information are kept. Made up of a national group of officers and clubs located in leading cities in the United States, its activities include thousands of women and cover a wide range of interests.

Its two national meetings yearly are held, one at Homecoming and the other at Commencement time. Its purpose is to fill college needs when they arise, to foster alumnae activities, and to serve as a tie between future, present, and past students and the college faculty and administrators.

The Tulane Alumni Association was organized in 1898 devoted to the broad principles of devotion and service to Tulane University. Since then Tulane alumni have taken an active part in the progress of one of the South's oldest and greatest educational institutions. Through the Alumni Association the University maintains contacts with graduates and former students. The Tulanian, alumni magazine, is sent free of charge to all alumni.

Active Tulane alumni clubs exist in many parts of the world. Each year the Association sponsors Homecoming, a celebration which brings graduates back to the campus for reunions and other activities.

The Tulane Alumni Fund, organized eight years ago by the alumni themselves, is conducted by Class Agents, Area Representatives and other alumni. The Fund has increased each year both in numbers of contributors and money contributed. It has become a strong financial support of the University and has been another means of nurturing alumni interest.

The headquarters of the Association are located at 6319 Willow St. in the new Alumni House. The Alumni House is constantly used as a gathering place for alumni and other University groups.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Student government is among the most valuable system a student body can possess. Each individual college has its body of officers, and the various presidents, plus three officers elected by the student body, form a Tulane University Student Council. The governments of the colleges are thus unified, and work toward the common good of all the students. As such a representative group, the Student Council realizes its responsibility and aims high for the best in mature student government.

There are, of course, many routine, but important matters which the council handles, such as all student body elections, the United Fund Drive, budgetary problems, and investigating student activities.

And there are larger problems. This year, the council has worked with a committee of university officials in attempting to solve the growing parking problem on the campus. The Book Store Committee has worked toward a more practicable book-store system.

Each year the Student Council selects ten students who have been outstanding in their work toward a better university, and the recipients of Student Activity Keys are representative of the most outstanding students at the University.

As time passes, the needs of the student body change. In accordance this year the student council has revised the constitution.

New Orleans (TU)—"Tulane journalists are saying more nowadays—and being heard," Dr. Ima Critic said here yesterday.

Dr. Critic said this development has made itself most significantly felt in The Hullabaloo, campus newspaper.

Speaking before a student group, Dr. Critic said that never before had the paper aired such controversial material.

"Students, faculty, and administration all came in for their share of comment, praise, and—yes—even criticism," Dr. Critic said.

"And not only has The Hullabaloo raised questions, it has initiated action," he noted.

"From early prodding on cockroaches that allegedly roamed the halls of the McAlister dorms to a detailed report on a proposed student activities budget—The Hullabaloo has given this year's Tulane students on-the-spot news coverage and significant comment and criticism.

"Hullabaloo comment even secured hooks for the men's room of the History Building," Dr. Critic added.

S. C. Member, another guest speaker, said he was struck, and sometimes shaken, by the increased political awareness shown by this year's paper.

Cozy?

He said that it not only covered campus politics, it went on to debate the worth of such national figures as Senator Joseph R. McCarthy.

He said The Hullabaloo showed new initiative in editorially supporting Tulane faculty member Dr. Leon D. Hubert for New Orleans District Attorney. Adding that the Hullabaloo was to be complimented for the study it gave to Hubert's record before supporting him—and for supporting him on the basis of his record and qualifications not merely as a Tulane faculty member.

Member noted that other Hullabaloo "firsts" this year included such efforts as improved race relations as a feature story and picture of a Tulane janitor who had worked toward an M.A. during his summers.

"A race relations editorial in The Hullabaloo brought widespread praise from students, faculty members, and civic minded groups throughout New Orleans and nation," he said.

NOTE: JAMB policy allows groups to write their own copy. This article was written by the Hullabaloo, and represents his views.

HULLABALOO

Play and Work

"A Hullabaloo exchange of views with the Student Council on the threat of newspaper censorship at Tulane received nationwide recognition with top play in the Associated Collegiate Press bulletin—and received letters of support from interested alumni as far north as Michigan."

"At times it praised what it deemed worthy administration actions," he said, "but when a University Senate committee referred a petitioning campus political organization back to the council partly because it was 'too partisan,' The Hullabaloo expressed its disapproval.

"Meanwhile The Hullabaloo sports staff was not napping."

"Sports editor Jimmy Cox censored the Citadel team as a Greenie football foe." He commented on what he considered an incorrect stand by a downtown columnist on football referees—and top Hullaboo sports scribe Bob Kriebel scooped the downtown dailies with his explanation of Coach Cliff Wells' effective "Cat-and-Mouse" defensive basketball play.

Kriebel later became sports editor when the press of other business forced Cox's resignation.

"And The Hullabaloo covered the lighter side of the campus news too!"

"A Freshman coed perched on a lap and guzzled milk out of a baby bottle on one front page, and on another two girls from Europe gave their opinions on American males—'baby-faced'."

"The Engineering Eagles found their 'Blarney Stone' uprooted—they put it back. Then the Commerce Kings hid it behind Norman Mayer Memorial. The Engineers took it home and anchored it in concrete, connecting it with cables to underground pipes."

"Bookie operations were bared at Newcomb (Newcomb Handbook, that is), and a Hullaboo columnist was 'killed' for a week."

"Meanwhile cartoonist Ronnie Kraemer, Murgatroyd, and a half-wit character named Spiffy Magee satirized and commented upon student life from their fortresses on the editorial page."

"The column rules, precise make-up, more numerous pictures, and larger headlines gave this year's Hullabaloo a livelier appearance," Member said.

"But The Hullabaloo's 'new look' was more than typographical—it was toward a closer study of basic issues in an effort to provoke deeper student-faculty thought rather than mere surface controversy."

TULANE-NEWCOMB OPERA WORKSHOP

The Opera Workshop was started in the spring of 1953 to provide students with an opportunity to perform in various phases of opera and lighter music presentations. The initial performance was Vaughan Williams' Riders to the Sea and Menotti's The Telephone, both chamber operas. The early fall program of 1953 was An Evening of Scenes from Grand Opera including scenes from Il Trovatore, La Traviata, The Consul, Madame Butterfly, Cosi fan tutte, Hansel and Gretel, and Don Giovanni. The big production in December was Offenbach's comic opera, La Vie Parisienne.

For the chamber operas and scenes, basic sets and costumes along with accented lighting are used. The acting areas are set off by neutral screens suggesting walls, doors, windows and space rather than realistic or stylistic suggestion. The lighting is used to create the mood and environment of the dramatic situation along with the basic costume of the period.

The members of the Workshop are from all departments of the University. All members are introduced to the many and varied problems of backstage work, making and setting up scenery, problems of lighting, designing and making costumes, etc.

This Spring the Opera Workshop in conjunction with the A capella Choir presented a Cantata-Opera program including Schutz, Seven Last Words of Christ, Buxtehude, Jesu, Joy and Treasure, and Hindemith, In Praise of Music, and a stage version of Dehussy's L'Enfant Prodigue.

The Workshop is directed by Cardon Burnham, Director of Choral Activities. All productions are given in Dixon Hall on the Newcomb Campus.

Tulane University Theatre has remodeled its theater plant. The new playhouse has a workshop, fine sound and lighting equipment, and every seat is within sightlines.

The 1953-54 season included four major productions: David Mark's new play, Captive at Large; High Tor by Maxwell Anderson; They Knew What They Wanted by Sidney Howard; and Aristophanes' The Birds. There were also three dramatic readings produced by the graduate students: Lady Windermere's Fan, by Oscar Wilde; The Father, by Strindberg; and Dryden's All For Love. The season ended with a bill of one-act plays: Red Peppers, by Noel Coward, and an adaptation of The Lottery, by Shirley Jackson.

The production was directed by the faculty and graduate students of the department of Theatre. Members of Tulane University Theatre comprised the casts and crews.

TUT is open to anyone connected with Tulane University, students, faculty, and staff. Anyone working in one production is invited to probationary membership. He is entitled to full membership after working in a second show, and he retains membership by working in two shows a season. TUT is proud to have members from nearly every college of the university and from the faculty. The strength of the organization depends upon university wide support, both in working on the shows and in attending performances.

"The building with the gun out front," home of the Tulane Navy R.O.T.C. Unit, has undergone considerable change this year. Basically we refer to the "face lifting" campaign of the main deck, office, and lounge spaces. It is here where the midshipmen clean their rifles as well as relax, initial "infraction" reports or feel a sense of pride after reading their names on the "merit" list, receive the good news of coming social events or reminders of an overdue bill for the last one, are exposed to all that can possibly be heaved at them pertaining to the whats, whys, and hows that exist between the stems and stems of our Navy's ships, and every

In conjunction with the "face lifting" of the building a "face changing" of the personnel as exists on every ship and station, every year has taken place. The Professor of Naval Science, several of the officers and enlisted instructors, and ninety-six freshmen effected this change. This insures a continuous run of new ideas and new personalities, and starts the chain of service friendship that is insurance to the prospective officer that wherever he is ordered he will undoubtedly have a friend or a friend's friend there to serve with.

The mission of the unit has not changed, however. To train men to be officers—Regular or Reserve, line or supply, or even marine!—is the goal.

TULANE'S 1953 FOOTBALL SEASON

Any summation of the 1953 football season must literally be a post mortem. In September, Greenie enthusiasts confidently expected to improve upon the even split of '52. Hopes were high to justify our role as SEC dark-horse and several forecasts placed the Wave in the nation's Top Twenty-Five.

Heralded as the South's best brace of backs, the veterans seemed to have a very solid first string line to operate behind. But the opening weeks, with road games against strong elevens in Athens and Ann Arbor, followed immediately by the two 1953 Sugar Bowl teams, proved an insurmountable hurdle; from which the team could never—physically or morale-wise—completely revive. Ironically, few before the season would dream of satisfaction — much less the superb showing — arising from our scoreless deadlock with Army. Our one conference leader—McGee in kickoff return yardage—was tawdry consolation, stemming directly from our defensive weaknesses.

Yet fine showings were turned in against Army, Georgia Tech, and in the first half at LSU. The play of Robelot, Kennedy, Weidenbacher, Burnthorne, and Sardisco was outstanding—when they were physically in one piece.

GREENIES CLOBBER CADETS

Tulane's Greenies opened the 1953 season by breezing past the Citadel 54-6. For the first time since the war, a game was scheduled before classes began—and it was the first opening game breather for a Tulane eleven since the 44-0 shellacking of VMI in 1935. These conditions combined with the tepid weather to keep the crowd below 18,000 although the Wave would not play again in New Orleans for three weeks.

Never noted for impressive showings against minor opposition, Tulane's ordinary exhibit compared well with those of other Southeastern Conference teams in opening games—especially after Mississippi Southern's stunner over Alabama, ultimate loop champions.

Featuring scintillating long runs by Max McGee, Ronnie Kent, Ray Hymel, and Tommy Warner, the Greenies showed a well-coordinated regular team, and a promising group of freshmen. The massive total of 432 yards on 41 rushing plays set the tone of the uneven contest.

After being briefly halted, Tulane reeled off three TD's in the initial period. Bubsie Partridge sliced over from the four to draw first blood in the embryo season. Then, in quick succession, Kent raced 44 yards to tally, and McGee angled off tackle and outran the Cadet secondary for 75 yards.

Hymel opened the second quarter by dashing 54 yards on a pitchout and the tone for a merry romp seemed set. But the Wave swiftly cooled off on offense and loosened up defensively. The Citadel marched 68 yards, Quarterback Wofford Williams sneaked over after hitting a wide-upon receiver on the 1-foot line.

In the third quarter, McGee scored from the 5 and on a 57 yard Clement pass. The last period saw Warner scamper 58 yards to score and another freshman Willie Hof, sweep wide for the last eight yards.

Scatback Warner and Hymel averaged 42 and 19 yards respectively and Tulane had a 60.5 punting average until a last quarter bloop. Robelot and McGee—who gained 132 yards—lived up to their pre-season press clippings and all-star selections.

But little was proved by such a game—and Charlie Pittman and Tony Sardisco joined Les Kennedy and Bobby Saia on the injury list.

WAVE WASHED OUT

Next the Greenies hit the road for Athens, Ga., with the idea of stopping all-American "Zeke" Bratkowski's passing. Old Man Weather took care of that. It rained. But the Greenies, whose last rain-soaked win was against Georgia Tech in 1949, lost anyway.

The teams sloshed around in the mud and the outplayed Bulldogs came out the winner in a 16-14 squeaker. A slippery football was the villain. Four bad or bobbed center passes on crucial kicking situations wrecked Tulane hopes for victory while a hard-charging Georgia fullback, Bob Clemens, took to the watery turf like a duck, wading through the Greenies for 86 yards in 18 carries.

A field goal by Georgia's Sam Mrvos proved the difference, and it, too, came on a Greenie bobble. Equally damaging was the Bulldog TD set up by a stray center pass in the last minute of the half.

Bratkowski, fiercely rushed, juked his passing attack and instead, kicked the Greenies into submission with booming punts. He out-dueled Max McGee and Ray Weidenbacher with an astounding 48-yard punt average.

Both Tulane scores came on passes, one from Pete Clement to Ed Bravo, and the other from a pair of sparkling subs—Ray Weidenbacher to Ray Price. Weidenbacher relieved Clement in the second half and turned in a brilliant performance, engineering a 64-yard touchdown drive.

The Greenies lost but Coach Wolf was able to salvage a smile or two. For one thing, the line got a stiffer test and except for its generosity toward Clemens, consistently out charged the heavier Bulldogs. Robelot, Burnthorne, Sardisco, Price, and Cummins led the stubborn Greenie forward wall in the muddy job of holding the Bulldogs at bay.

It wasn't a day for ground gaining—but Weidenbacher managed to squish through for 37 yards to lead the Wave ball-toters. Kent smashed for 35 and Les Kennedy, in his first game, plodded for 33 more.

Penalties weren't frequent, but one big one nearly broke the Greenies' backs in the first half. McGee unloaded a 51-yard punt which rolled dead on the Georgia one-foot line. But a Tulane offside brought the play back.

It was a tough one to lose, but the Greenies beat themselves with mistakes. There were no injuries this time, and the Wave gridders were still gunning for a big year, with powerful Michigan next on the list.

Come to the Sunny South

WOLVERINES WING WAVE

With a 1-1 record, Coach Wolf and his Greenies emplaned to Ann Arbor for a visit to the Big Ten country and Michigan's Wolverines, fresh from a 50-0 stunner over Washington and with a number 3 national ranking.

Sunny skies and Louisiana temperatures weren't enough of the comforts of home, however, and the Greenies came limping back to the bayou country on the short end of a 26-7 score.

Ed Bravo, Al Robelot and Tony Sardisco bulwarked Tulane's line while Pete Clement and Max McGee fought desperately to start a Wave offense rolling.

Michigan rambled 67 yards in eight plays for a first-period tally and led the rest of the way. A glittering sophomore, Tony Branoff, charged over from the five-yard stripe and converted for Michigan.

The Wolves added the clincher by twisting 75 yards in 15 plays in the second quarter. A dangerous gamble was the key play. With fourth down and two to go on their own 33, Michigan chose to run and picked up the needed yardage for the first down. Thereafter, they reeled off a pair of long gains and the old "Statue of Liberty" paid off from the seven-yard line.

Tulane came to life to dominate play throughout the third period, generating two drives which stalled deep in Wolverine territory. But with a minute remaining in the quarter, Michigan's Ted Kress fumbled in his own end zone and alert Eddie Bravo pounced on the ball for Tulane's only touchdown. Clement converted and the Wave trailed by 13-7. Then the rain came and the Greenies could not get rolling again.

With five minutes remaining, Michigan end Bob Topp blocked a Les Kennedy punt and Michigan got it in the Wave end zone to make it 26-7.

Kress added the insurance marker after intercepting a Clement pass on his own 38. On the next play he slashed off tackle, churning 62 yards to make it 26-7.

The Wave spirit remained high as a bewildering assortment of plays and superb blocking from the single wing and team speed brought the Mid-Westerners victory in a well-played game.

Frosh for the future

TORNADO TOPPLES TULANE

Next came Georgia Tech and the Greenies, trading knocks with one of the nation's finest elevens, lost 27-13. Battling fiercely, Tulane gave the Jackets a far better game than did West Virginia in a Sugar Bowl game as dull as had been expected. Only Notre Dame, during the regular season, scored more against the swift Tech line and alert pass defense.

A brilliant first quarter drive netted Tulane the first touchdown scored against Tech in the 1953 season. Ray Weidenbacher masterminded the attack. Fullback Ronnie Kent plunged over from the one-yard line to make it 6-0. Upset talk drifted through half-filled Tulane Stadium.

But after the slow, fumbling start, with five lost in the first quarter, Tech gathered speed under the lash of quarterback Bill

Catch of the year

Brigman's accurate throwing arm, then staved off a determined last-period comeback by the injury-peppered Greenies.

Tech's sharp ankle-twisting line caused the most trouble. It rushed Tulane's passers and kickers unmercifully, and handed the Wave a fearful physical beating.

Meanwhile, Tech's freshman quarterback, Wade Mitchell, engineered a 64-yard TD march after twenty minutes with Glenn Turner, a hull-powered fullback, going over. Later Brigman grabbed the reins, fired two touchdown passes and guided another from the ground to pull the men from Georgia out of danger.

Brigman heaved to halfback George Volkert to make it 14-6 with five seconds left in the half, and stormed back in the second half to sew things up with a 13-yard TD pitch to end Bill Sennett to run it 21-6.

Kent was sidelined with a broken hand and end Ray Price followed with a broken foot. Both sat out the rest of the season.

In the Clear?

Weidenbacher retired with a twisted knee in the last quarter and Les Kennedy was removed with a sprained ankle.

Outmanned Tulane played the last half without its injured starting backfield plus Clement and Chauvin, but untried reserves scrapped back to within one touchdown in the final minutes. Fullback Bob Saia rocketed through the middle to give the Greenies their second marker. Clement converted to make it 21-13.

But Tech wasn't through yet. Brigman led the Engineers to their final score with a 62-yard drive in the closing seconds. Turner smashed over to make it 27-13.

Tech's power and the injury to key Greenies put the "kiss of death" on Tulane hopes for a comeback, as the Greenies stumbled farther downhill.

ROCKED BY REBS

A visit to New Orleans by President Eisenhower and colorful halftime ceremonies at the half honoring the 150th birthday of the Louisiana Purchase, delayed gametime an hour, but were not enough to charge up the Greenies for Miss Rebs as they dropped their fourth game, 45-14.

Tulane recovered an Ole Miss fumble on the second play of the game and drove 35 yards to score. Pete Clement passed to end Ed Bravo to make it 6-0. Clement converted and for the second successive week, upset talk buzzed the stands.

After that the injury-weakened and outmanned Greenies seemingly could do nothing right.

It was a battle of lines early in the game until a series of decisive breaks and the sparkling quarterbacking of Herman "Eagle" Day turned against the Greenies.

Bryan Burnthorne, Charlie Coates, Tony Sardisco and Jim Shoultz matched the Rebel line power for a while, but the Rebs gradually softened up the Greenie defenders and turned the game into a rout.

Guard Crawford Mims, one of the outstanding linemen to perform in Tulane Stadium in 1953, roared in to block a Max

McGee punt and the Rebs covered it for their first touchdown as the quarter closed.

Mississippi roared on while the Greenies gradually slowed to a halt. The Rebs tallied three times in a devastating second quarter. Day grounded a Jim Partridge fumble on the Tulane 16 and Rebel fullback Bobby McCool scampered the distance on the next play to make it 13-7.

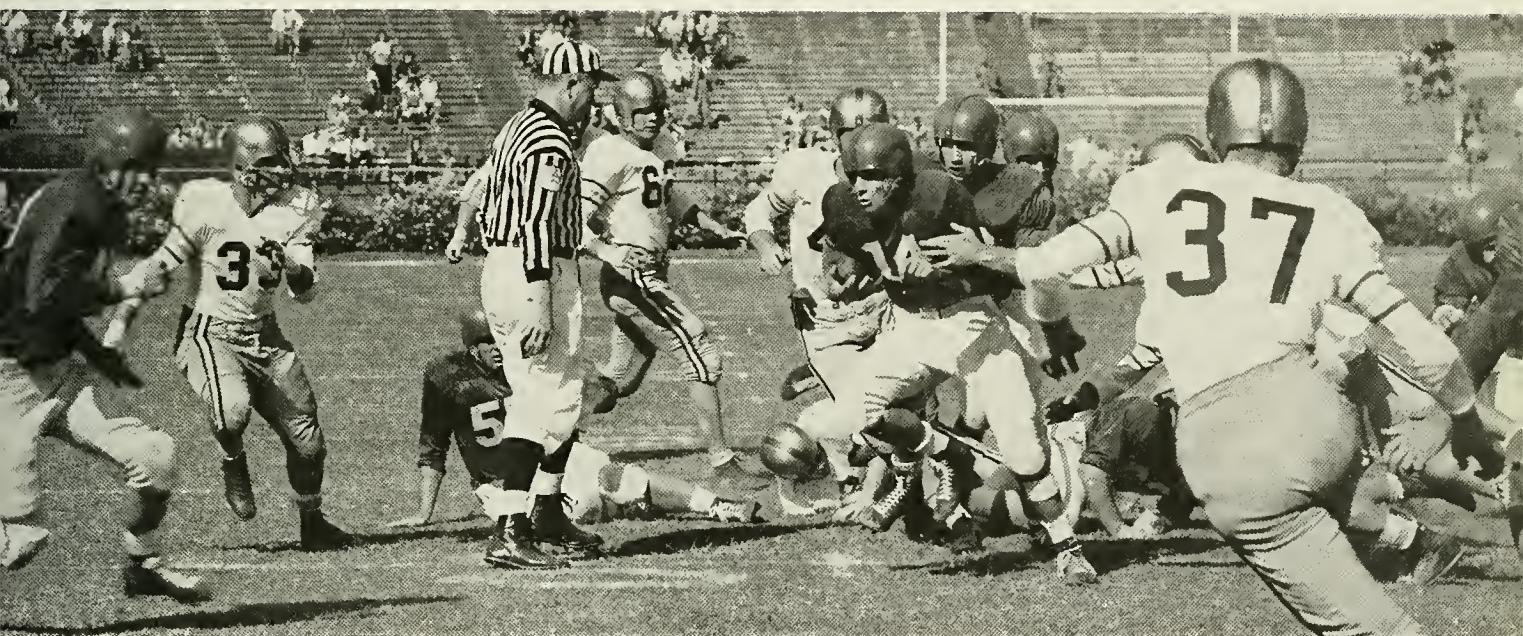

Later Day passed to halfback Earl Blair to make it 19-7 and Ole Miss was off to the races. Substitute back Jimmy Patton entered the game and proceeded to riddle the Greenies for four touchdowns in the final half.

After Patton's third paydirt trip, Tulane came to life enough to send freshman fullback Ron Quillian over on a 10-yard smash. Clement converted to make it 38-14 before Patton completed the humiliating defeat of the Greenies with his fourth touchdown.

For the Rebs it was their third straight upset of Tulane, their highest score even recorded against the Greenie, and the Wave's worst post-war defeat in the Stadium.

Through Tech's Mighty Line

PLAINSMEN POWER PAST WAVE

A train trip to Mobile, Ala., produced little for the battered Greenies to cheer about as they tumbled to their fifth straight loss, this time to Auburn, 34-7. This was Tulane's first loss in Ladd Stadium.

Quarterback Ray Weidenbacher missed the game because of his knee injury in the Tech tussle. Ed Bravo, Bryan Burnthorne, Al Robelot, Bill Spollen, George Cummins, and Paul Rushing stood out in a badly overpowered Tulane line.

Starting slowly, Auburn began to roll late in the first period. The Tigers put together a 59-yard drive late in the quarter with fullback Charlie Hataway going over from the one-yard line.

A pass interception by Bobby Freeman opened the gates for the second Tiger tally. Freeman grabbed Pete Clement's toss away from the hands of Max McGee and streaked 33 yards to the Tulane seven. Hataway scored in two plays and half-time ended with Tulane behind, 13-0.

The Greenies threatened briefly in the third quarter when center Rushing recovered McGee's goal-line fumble for the only Wave touchdown. Pete Clement converted to pull the Greenies to 13-7.

Then the Plainsmen went to work to run up the highest score they've made in 51 years against Tulane. Bobby Duke snatched a 26-yard deflected pass from Freeman to make it 20-7. Then, in Tulane's most exciting play, Kennedy grabbed a lateral on the ensuing kick-off at his own 6, and scampered 53 yards before being nipped from behind. With this threat stalled, the Wave was through.

In the final period Freeman sprinted seven yards around end to make it 27-7 as the bewildered Greenies began to fade. Sub Joe Davis clamped on the lid with a 22-yard dash off tackle late in the game to make the final score 34-7.

Fortunately the Greenies escaped serious injury except for routine bruises, as they began preparations for Homecoming and the Black Knights of Army.

Our one thriller

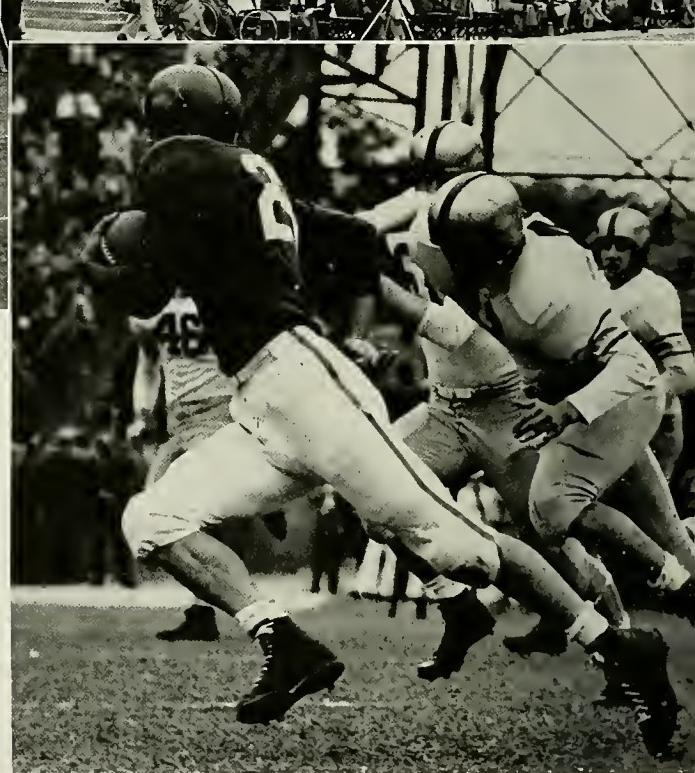

REVITALIZED WAVE DROWNS OFFENSE OF EAST'S BEST

A spirited homecoming crowd of 40,000 was treated to one of the finest grid battles in years at Tulane Stadium, as Coach "Bear" Wolf worked his injury-weakened club into a fever pitch.

Col. "Red" Blaik brought his Army Cadets to town for a "breather" only to have the sky-high Greenies battle the Cadets to a 0-0 tie.

Favored by two touchdowns, Army found Tulane's spirit too much as it failed to score for the only time during the season. Potent at midfield, the Cadets couldn't shatter the Wave line or the Tulane spirit on crucial fourth-down plays.

It was a battle of stout lines all the way. Tulane's Ron Senac, Tony Sardisco, Al Robelot, Ed Bravo, Bryan Burnthorne and the rest of the Greenie linesmen turned in a magnificent performance. But Les Kennedy and Paul Rushing were the top acts on Tulane's program, and between them they made or helped to make virtually every tackle by the Greenies in the turf-tearing defensive battle.

The Cadets, however, matched Tulane's stingy line by mixing a set of unorthodox defensive lineups to confuse Greenie signal-callers.

Army's heralded Pete Vann-Fred Attaya combo didn't materialize as the Greenies line smacked fullback Attaya down and out of the game in the third quarter and proceeded to smother quarterback Vann's offensive plans.

After penetrating to the Tulane 10-yard stripe in the first period on Vann's passing, Army's attack bogged down after a penalty wiped out a would-be TD pass from Vann to end Bob Mischak.

Vann's strong pitching arm lobbed artillery at the Greenie defenders in the closing seconds only to have Tulane's Pete Clement intercept one of the heaves with less than two seconds left to insure the tie.

Tulane drove to the Cadet 8-yard line in the fourth period where a Clement field goal attempt was blocked by Mischak.

Eight lost fumbles cancelled first-quarter drives by both teams, as they settled down to a jolting line contest the rest of the way.

But the brow-lifting tie was a costly one for the Greenies.

Get that Ref!

Weidenbacher, back in action after a two-week layoff because of injury, had to leave in the third period with a shoulder ailment and Sardisco and Robelot were temporarily shoved out of action.

Tulane hit the national airwaves, as Ted Husing and Bill Stern described the tilt for New York and ABC listeners. Husing declared that the Greenie line, which nested continuously in Army's backfield, was more successful than any other team in bottling up the high-powered Cadets.

MAULED BY MAROONS

Nov. 7 was "hospital day" again for the battered Greenies. Mississippi State hurt the Greenie pride with a 21-0 stomping, while Tulane's Al Robelot, Les Kennedy and Pete Clement were sidelined with injuries.

Big Paul Rushing once again was Tulane's tower of strength in the line along with Tony Sardisco, Jim Shoultz, Charlie Coates and George Cummins. Meanwhile, the Greenie offense could not pierce State's stubborn defenders.

Jack Parker, 1952's SEC scoring champ, and one of the most dangerous quarterbacks the Greenies faced all season, was field general for the Maroons. He passed for one touchdown, scored another and guided the State eleven on the ground to its third tally.

Tulane showed only flashes of the brilliant play that brought a scoreless tie with Army the week before. It got the ball only three times in the first quarter, fumbling it away twice.

State ground out 412 yards by rushing. Fullback Charles Evans pounded over on a 37-yard blast to cap a 68-yard first quarter drive that gave the Maroons a 7-0 lead. In the same period, the Maroons were credited with 55 yards on a fumble that looked like a soccer match! Tulane's Partridge finally trapped the bouncing pigskin.

Late in the second period Parker faked a pass and skirted right end for the second State score, and it was 14-0 at halftime.

Late in the last period the Maroons added their final tally when Parker tossed a 7-yard aerial to end John Katusa. Parker converted all of State's touchdowns and it ended 21-0.

Tulane revealed a glaring weakness on pass defense against Parker's pitches, as well as giving the mediocre Maroons their generous supply of rushing yardage. With first stringers Ray Weidenbacher and Max McGee out with injuries, combined with injuries to Kennedy, Clement and Robelot, the Greenies limped off with their sixth loss in eight games.

STOPPED BY VANDY

Vanderbilt's Commodores closed out Tulane's home schedule by handing the Greenies their seventh loss, 21-7. It was Vandy's first SEC win over the Wave; in fact, their first since 1928!

Big Max McGee, back in action though slowed by injuries, pleased the sparse crowd with some of his finest running of the year, but the effort wasn't enough as the riddled Greenies fumbled away scoring chances and continued to make defensive errors.

Max and the 3 Musketeers

Jim Shoultz, Al Robelot, Earl Burke, Charlie Camp, and Ron Senac stopped up the holes torn by the Commodores' big forward wall.

Fullback Bill Krietemeyer got the Vandy eleven off to a fast start in the first period when he plowed six yards to climax a 75-yard march and added the point after touchdown.

The tilt then settled down to a punting duel between McGee and Vandy's Charlie Horton for the rest of the first half.

In the second half the Greenies stormed back with a patched-up lineup to tie the score at 7-7. Pete Clement ended a 59-yard drive with a three-yard pass to McGee. Clement converted.

However, Vandy struck suddenly for two touchdowns in the last five minutes as the Greenies fell to their most discouraging loss.

The Commodores tallied on a 41-yard march with halfback Danny Byers and quarterback Billy Holmes' passing chewing up the most yardage. End Charlie Hawkins picked off Holmes' pass for the second TD. Guard Bob Goodall converted to make it 14-7.

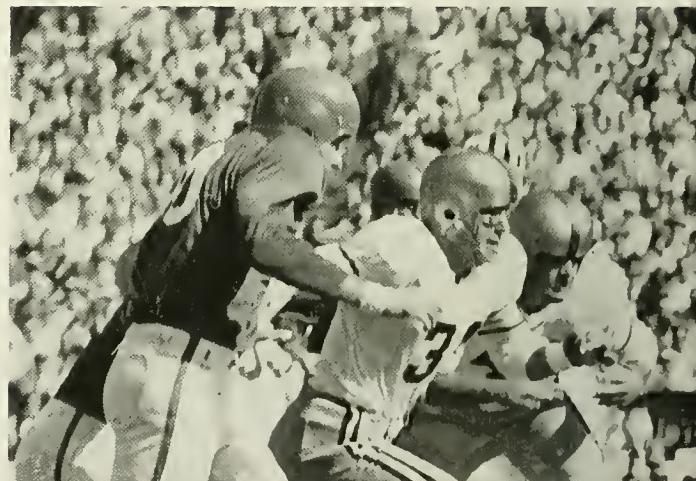

Minutes later, Greenie halfback Les Kennedy who was sent in despite a hobbling injury, fumbled on the Tulane six and center Jim Cunningham recovered for Vandy. Holmes passed to Hawkins again for the score to make it 20-7. Goodall converted.

No important injuries sprung up to worry the Greenies as they headed into a two-week rest period for the LSU battle.

BEST NOVEMBER GAME NOT ENOUGH

Slate-gray skies, brisk autumn weather and a wide-eyed Louisiana State pass defense greeted the Greenies at Baton Rouge.

Tulane lost, 32-13, despite iron-man efforts by backs E. J. Chauvin, Pete Clement, Les Kennedy, Tommy Warner, Ray Weidenbacher and Wayne Wall, and a hard-charging line which desperately missed fiery Al Robelot who was out with injuries. Hard-running Bubsie Partridge also missed "the big one" with a broken hand.

Harold Hawkins, Ed McCool, and Paul Rushing, upheld the stubborn Wave line but LSU's Jerry Marchand and alert defense proved too much.

Five Tulane passes were intercepted by the sharp Tiger defenders, one was returned for the deadening touchdown, and two Greenie fumbles were covered by eager Tiger linemen to add to Greenie woes.

After falling behind, 26-0, a pair of spirited last-quarter drives netted touchdowns for the Greenies, with senior Wayne Wall tallying the only six-pointer in his college career, and freshman Pete Morere pounding over from the five-yard stripe for the other.

But it was LSU's stocky fullback, Marchand, who riddled Tulane for 99 yards by rushing and three touchdowns in his final college game. He nabbed an Al Doggett flat pass for 60 yards after three minutes of game time to set up the Bengals' first score, then squirmed over from the one.

Rolling up over 100 yards in the initial period, the Greenies' forwards consistently got the jump on the Bengals and marched from deep in their own territory before bogging down. Late in the second frame, Doggett picked off a desperate Weidenbacher pass and scored from Tulane's 26. LSU led at halftime, 12-0.

In the third period the Tigers rolled on as the battered Greenies reluctantly gave ground. Tiger guard Andy Alford intercepted a Les Kennedy pass to set up the Tigers' third tally with Marchand zipping over from the one.

Moments later Doggett returned a Tulane punt to the Greenie 28, then passed to halfback Charlie Oakley for the score. Doggett's conversions made it 26-0 before the Greenies began to get up steam.

Sharing honors with veterans in the first touchdown drive covering 83 yards, freshman Tommy Warner caught two Clement passes and ripped off a nine-yard gain before Wall crossed the goal from the one-foot line.

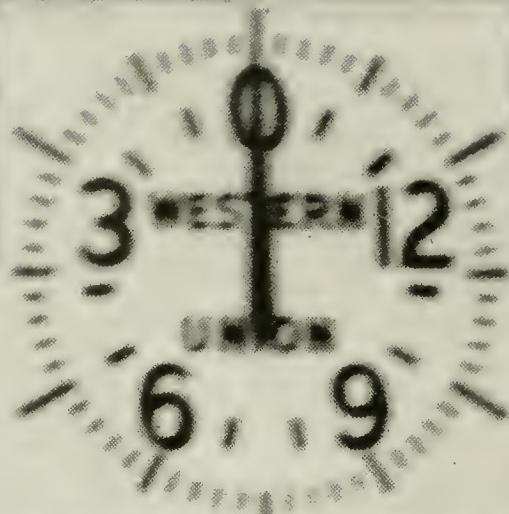

The Tigers stormed back for a 45-yard rally with Marchand again doing the honors from the five to run the count to 32-6.

The Greenies wouldn't lay down, however, and freshmen Willie Hof, Ron Quillian and Morere, working with Clement, slashed goalward from the LSU 40 after Clement had returned LSU's kickoff nearly forty yards. A fifteen-yard penalty helped the Greenie cause before Morere plunged over and Clement converted to make it 32-13.

The game was bitterly fought—like any Tulane-LSU battle—but the wornout warriors in Green and Gold exchanged hand-shakes and called it a season.

LET'S DE-EMPHASIZE DE-EMPHASIS

Only 5 seasons ago in 1948, the Greenies blazed to a scintillating 46-0 slaughter of LSU in Baton Rouge. A fairly steady decline set in until this year, when Tulane suffered its longest winless streak—and probably worst football season in sixty years of the sport.

Our highly-heralded re-evaluation of intercollegiate athletics was perhaps educationally valid. But apparently it is athletically futile. Playing big-time schools in a mammoth stadium with professional publicity (and treatment of fans and students) becomes incongruous with a simon-pure attitude. With a well-liked coach, and some promising, colorful material—more was to be expected this year in football. Injuries, attrition, and demoralization resulting from successive defeats are hardly a sufficient answer. Overall student and alumni spirit do not become sublime simply because our teams are over-matched.

The so-called "minor" sports of tennis and basketball, during the pigskin decline, have achieved a fine technical proficiency and gained vital, enthusiastic fans. Intramurals, as played, cause more injuries than intercollegiate sports.

Let's re-think our athletic program.

Pulling ten games out in the closing nerve-tingling three minutes, the Greenies basketball team maneuvered its way to a creditable 16-8 seasonal record and a tie for third with Alabama in the SEC. Faced with serious backboard and bench problems when the three probable starters Fritz Schultz, Dick McGowan, and Clyde Cox, withdrew from school, Coach Wells completely revised Tulane's style of play. No member of the 1952-53 SEC runner-up had graduated, but these losses and a rougher schedule made the improvement on last season's record a worthy accomplishment for the squad.

Tulane showed sterling accuracy from the free-throw line—especially in the clutch when the cat-and-mouse drew fouls—and finished second nationally in the department. With only three seniors—Pat Browne, Bob Kriebel, and Harry Hobbs—the Greenies opened with close upsets over Kansas, Wisconsin, and Oregon State before wildly cheering crowds.

Throwing their traditional "fire-engine" fast break out the window, the 1953-54 Greenies played it cool—slow and deliberate but with plenty of hustle.

Final scores were lower than in previous years because the Tulane control game made it that way. Thrillers were a dime a dozen. The Greenies won nine of the close ones in the closing minutes with a "cat and mouse" maneuver which put four players in each corner clearing the floor for one man to fake and drive for the basket.

Hal Cervini was leader of the "cat and mouse" attack. He got strong support from two other dazzling guards, Roy Stoll, potentially the finest guard in Greenie history, and sub Bob Delpit. These three along with a quintet of

1 9 5 4 B A S K E T B A L L

"underneath" men. Dick Brennan, Pat Browne, Jim Nowakowski, Phil Wallace and Bob Kriebel, played most of the ball. Always ready on the bench for "fill-in" assignments were Harry Hobbs, Dean Tyner, Roland Wallace, Jim Cothern, Tom Murphy and Stan Stumpf.

A pair of routine openers ushered in the season. The Greenies pried off the lid with a 68-44 conquest of the Pensacola Navy fliers. Well-balanced scoring and a stingy defense provided the first victory. A night later Louisiana College became the second victim, behind Tulane's racehorse fast break. It ended 37-47. Cervini arched in 19 points to lead the offense. Phil Wallace, a 6-6 stringbean who transferred to Tulane from Millsaps College and Nowakowski, a 6-9 giant who came down from Kent State (O.) University began their season-long battle for the starting center job. Wallace made the best showing early in the season because "Big Jim" had undergone an appendectomy in late October. Both looked promising in the two opening "breathers."

THE 1954 SQUAD . . .

THE GREENIES OF 1953-54

On Dec. 10 the team which came within one point of the national collegiate title in 1953—Kansas—came to town. The Greenies were suddenly playing in the big leagues.

Armed with all-American center B. H. Born and all-Big Seven forward Allan Kelley, the visiting Jayhawks ranked third nationally, were heavy favorites over Tulane. But Coach Wells and the fighting Greenies had different ideas. Cervini sizzled for 20 points. Wallace was right behind with 19 as the Wave hit for an amazing 47.2% from the floor and beat Phog Allen's ball-hawkers at their own game. Browne dominated the rebounds and the Greenies upset Kansas before a howling crowd, 69-65. The jammed Tulane gym housed a standing ovation for the Greenies when it was over. Tulane was in the national limelight after what may be the best basketball game a Wave team ever played.

But the bubble quickly burst. On Dec. 14 a veteran crew of Rice Owls flew into town. They were on their way to a hardwood date in New York's Madison Square Garden and they weren't impressed with Tulane's unblemished record. Poor Tulane shooting in the first half put the Owls far ahead at intermission, 33-17. After that, only a ghost of a chance remained. But the Greenies fought back to 56-49 when the gun sounded. A better start would have produced a win for the Greenies, but the first eight minutes of the game passed without a Wave field goal and the deficit was too much to overtake.

With the season record now at 3-1 the Greenies entertained a couple of Big Ten teams over the weekend of Dec. 19-21. Tulane edged Northwestern's Wildcats the first night, 70-68. Four consecutive clutch foul shots by Cervini handed Tulane the win. Cervini and Delpit each managed 15 points to share top scoring honors. The Greenies were ragged throughout the game, blowing a 40-32 lead and falling behind 53-48 before finding the range again. Two nights later a strong gang of Wisconsin Badgers came down from Baton Rouge where they wallop LSU, 82-66. The Greenie players had the incentive and Wells furnished the strategy—a tight zone defense arrangement which completely befuddled the visitors. The game required an overtime period to complete, but the underdog Greenies won, 57-55. Cervini's steel-nerved foul shooting in the closing seconds brought the win to the Greenies. Phil Wallace scored 12 points. Browne swept 18 rebounds and Tulane's second Big Ten scalp was on the string.

Christmas vacation came next, and for the Greenies it meant a visit to Raleigh, N.C., and one of the nation's best tournaments, the Dixie Classic. Competing in the huge 12,000-seat Reynolds Coliseum with teams like North Carolina State, Duke, Wake Forest, North Carolina, Navy, Seton Hall and Oregon State, the Greenies saw and learned plenty of top-drawer basketball. But the lesson was costly. It meant one win and two losses on the season record.

In their first Classic game the Greenies hauled out their zone defense, hoping to pull a "Wisconsin trick" again. But Wake Forest was wise, and the Demon Deacons dropped Tulane, 72-65. The Wave defense held Deacon all-American center Dick Hemric to the lowest total of his college career, 13 points.

But a slender southpaw named "Lefty" Davis uncorked 25 points to riddle the Tulane defense. Cervini and Wallace paced Tulane's offense. Oregon State's tall Beavers became Tulane's next tourney foe. With the tallest player in college history, 7-3 Wade Halbrook, and sporting the national ranking of fourth to say nothing of a recent 16-point lacing of Indiana's defending national champs, the Beavers were figured to rebound from their Classic loss to Duke by blasting the Greenies.

But Tulane hadn't read the papers. Holding Halbrook to four goals the Greenies pleased a Classic crowd of 12,000 with an upset 74-70 win. Cervini, Wallace and subs Nowakowski and Kriebel provided the punch with a spirited second half rally that overcame a 14-point Beaver lead. Halbrook netted a Classic record of 15 free throws but the hustling Wave would not quit. They outfought and outshot the Beavers to earn the right to meet clever little Seton Hall for the consolation trophy. Seton Hall's Pirates used slick blocks and screens, amazing shooting (49% accuracy) and a defensive iron curtain to knock off the bewildered Greenies, 77-68. Cervini, Stoll and Nowakowski all fouled out trying to stop the Pirates. Tulane's season mark now stood at six wins and three losses. Cervini was picked on the all-Classic second team at guard as the Greenies returned to New Orleans with a 14-game South-eastern Conference schedule staring them in the face.

"Cat and Mouse"

On Jan. 7 Phil Wallace sprained his left ankle and two days later Florida's Gators opened the conference slate for the Greenies in New Orleans. With Kriebel and Nowakowski filling the center duties for the injured Wallace the Greenies hammered out a convincing 86-64 win. Stoll fired in 17 points to lead the attack while Cervini hit 15 and Kriebel added 14. Kriebel and Browne as usual dominated the rebounds.

Georgia visited Tulane next, and the Greenies slammed the Bulldogs to the tune of 93-78. It was the highest point total of the season for Tulane. Browne set a new Tulane individual scoring record by looping in 33 points, breaking the 29-point standard held by Mel Payton in 1950 and Don Holt in 1952. Cervini piled on 15 more and Kriebel hit for 14. Tulane started slowly, falling behind at one state, 8-0, but stormed back to run off with their eighth win against three losses.

Next came Kentucky. Coach Adolph Rupp's Wildcats topped every collegiate poll and the Greenies quickly found out why. Kentucky crushed Tulane 94-43 behind All-Americans Frank Ramsey and Cliff Hagan who hit for 26 and 24 points respectively while Lou Tsioropolous canned 22 for Kentucky. The Cats pulled ahead 26-8 in the first quarter at halftime. The Wave was worn out from a 36-hour trip because the plane could not land in Lexington. Tulane couldn't score against Kentucky's aggressive defense, couldn't rebound with the Wildcats' three big men, and couldn't stop the thundering fast breaks which the Cats threw at them.

Some teams would fold up and die after such drubbing. But the Greenies came back with a vengeance. Playing Tennessee in Knoxville, Tulane bounced back with a thrilling 63-61 win over the Vols. Delpit performed some last-second heroics to pull it out of the fire, hitting two free throws with five seconds left for the victory. Nowakowski tallied ten points and rebounded ruggedly to give the crippled Greenies a big lift. Wallace was still out with his ankle injury and Brennan twisted his knee in Kentucky but the Greenies boosted their season mark to nine wins and four losses with a nifty 3-1 conference record.

When exam time came around the Greenies didn't study enough for their test in the midst of finals with Spring Hill in Mobile, Ala., and they flunked, 60-57. A "little college" all-American named "Happy" Mahfouz collected 22 points and hit a last-ditch goal to give the scrappy Badgers an upset win over their "big time" foe. Wallace missed the tilt and Brennan saw only spot service but it was Tulane's inability to get "fired up" more than a lack of manpower. The Greenies came home slightly red-faced with vengeful gazes ahead in the direction of Mississippi.

And when the Mississippi schools came to New Orleans the Greenies were ready. Cervini played his top game of the year, scoring 28 points and turning in a brilliant defensive game as Ole Miss battled but fell, 84-77. Browne added 21 points and Stoll punched in 13 as the Greenies out-shined the heralded Denver Brackeen-Cob Jarvis scoring combination of the Rebels. Tulane guards outscored Ole Miss guards 43-8 in the thriller. That was only the beginning. Two nights later the Wave clicked to near-perfection in thumping Mississippi State, 79-56. Brennan fired in 21 points and Browne followed with 15. But it was Tulane's zone defense that clicked the loudest. Shifting beautifully with each movement of the ball by State the Greenies frequently batted down attempted passes and converted them into rumbling fast break assaults which produced many easy goals.

The hot streak didn't last, however. In Baton Rouge the following weekend the zone defense failed to halt Louisiana State's torrid outside shooting and the Greenies after a 7-0 lead collapsed to a 66-47 defeat. LSU's all-American Bob Pettit was harnessed by the Wave defense until the Bengals got a hefty lead and did not score a field goal in the first half. The defense eased up to stop the Tigers outside—so Pettit poured in 17 points in the last 15 minutes of the game. Stoll led Tulane's stifled attack with 14 markers. Brennan added 12. This brought Tulane's season record to 11-6 with a 5-2 SEC mark.

The things done wrong at LSU were corrected the following week in Nashville, Tenn. Vanderbilt felt the sting of the revenge-seeking Greenies to the tune of a 71-63 upset. Cervini performed in all-SEC fashion to tally 22 points and hold Vandy's high-scoring "Babe" Taylor to zero. Stoll added 15 more for Tulane. Vandy's Dan Finch arched in 30 points but the Greenies had the poise to hold the lead most of the way. Clever passes, rugged rebounding and red-hot (46.8%) goal shooting were the outstanding factors in Tulane's twelfth win. In Atlanta the Greenies finished the two-game road trip by nearly blowing a close one to winless Georgia Tech. It took a last-second basket by Delpit after the Wave had "cat and moused" the last three minutes of the game. Tech had a chance to take the lead with less than a minute to go but missed two free throw attempts. Tulane got the ball, gave it to Delpit and came out with a 59-57 escape. Cervini scored 14 points and Stoll tacked on 12.

After the successful road trip, the Greenies found themselves tied with Auburn for fourth place in the SEC. Kentucky, LSU and Alabama were the league's front-runners at this stage. But Alabama and Auburn came next for the Greenies and the standing were shaken slightly. The Greenies edged Alabama in a well-played 54-50 thriller, using the zone defense and "cat and mouse" to take third place in the league. Cervini scored 15 and Stoll hit for 14 to lead the careful-playing Wave. Taking only 50 shots, Tulane hit 21 for a sizzling 42% report while reckless 'Bama fired 74 but hit only 22 for 30%. Tulane's next foe was Auburn and the Greenies' stay in third place was a short one when the Plainsmen snatched a 65-62 upset to throw the SEC into a three-way tie for third. Tulane's zone defense couldn't cope with sharpshooting guard Jack Turner, who hit for 20 markers and three other Plainsmen who tallied in double figures. Browne tossed in 24 to lead the Wave attack with Stoll and Cervini adding 12 each. Auburn gained the lead for the first time in a 21-13 third quarter and held fast as the Wave repeatedly missed good shots in the final minutes.

The Greenies bounced with a pair of well-earned wins in Mississippi the following weekend to retake third place. With calm ball control and dead-eye shooting by Tulane, Ole Miss fell 66-57. The Rebs played without Jarvis and Brackeen but made a good game of it until the final stanza when Tulane pulled away. The "cat and mouse" scored for the Greenies in the closing stages. Browne hit 22 while a trio of Greenie guards contributed 40 points. Cervini hit 14. Delpit and Stoll added 13 each. The Wave closed its road season with a 59-53 triumph over Mississippi State in Starkville. Cervini scorched the nets for 19 to lead Tulane, meanwhile the Greenie zone defense kept the Maroon shooters hustling to get shots. A cold third quarter nearly cost Tulane the win as the Maroons held a six-point bulge at one time. The final quarter saw Tulane fight back with Kriebel, Cervini and Delpit doing the scoring. Delpit "cat and moused" the last five minutes and sunk four of six free throws to keep the Greenies nudged ahead. The win put Tulane back in third as both Auburn and Alabama suffered losses to Kentucky. Tulane's season mark at this point stood 16-7 with 10-3 in the SEC. LSU was the last game.

The Tigers came to New Orleans needing a win to tie Kentucky for the SEC title. They got their win. Tulane gym was jammed to the rafters at tip-off time expecting a tooth-and-nail struggle. But it never came off. Bengal all-American Bob Pettit was unstoppable and the Tigers swished long shots from outside to race to a 40-20 lead before the Wave came to life. Tulane's zone defense was no match for the smooth-working Tigers, so Coach Wells changed plans. In the second half, trailing 41-24, the Greenies came out with a man-for-man defense and stuck Nowakowski under the basket on offense. The defense held LSU to 22 points the poorly- officiated second half while Nowakowski spearheaded Tulane's 32-point assault. The Wave pulled to within seven points at 57-50 but the rattled Tigers settled down, pulled away. Pettit popped in 26 points, 14 on free throws. Nowakowski led the Greenies with 15 and Cervini got 13 to top McArdle in the personal feud. It ended 63-52, bringing down the curtain on what Coach Wells termed "my most satisfying season." The record did not match earlier seasons, but neither did the material.

Cervini snagged the biggest share of individual honors. He was named to the all-Dixie second team. The Associated Press put him on its all-SEC second team and International News Service gave him honorable mention for all-American. He led the team in scoring with 339 points—a 14.8 pre-game pace and was the seventh Tulane player in history to score over 300 points in one season. His 133 free throws also set a new school mark.

Stoll also made several all-SEC teams—primarily for his exceptional defensive play, ball-hawking, and rebounding.

Tennis—pride and joy of Tulane athletics in recent years—came near being perfect in 1953 and figured to be as good or better this year.

Paced by Sophomore Ham Richardson, Coach Emmett Pare's Wave netmen ran their string of dual victories to 25 without a loss! It was rare, in fact, when an opponent scored against the power-packed Greenies. New Orleans Lawn Tennis Club, Texas and LSU each managed one point. The Greenies blanked seven other foes.

Richardson added the NCAA singles championship to his ever-growing list of tennis triumphs. Ham is a three-time Davis Cupper and currently ranks sixth among American amateurs. He has yet to lose a set in inter-collegiate competition.

But it took more than one man to do the job—and Pare had the men. Al Wickersham, Don Merritt, Harmon Collins, Henry Jungle and Barney Donnelly won nearly as often as Richardson, although perhaps not as decisively. Evidence of Tulane's balance came when the Wave netters swept every division championship in the SEC meet held at the season's end. It was Tulane's 11th conference tennis title and third in a row.

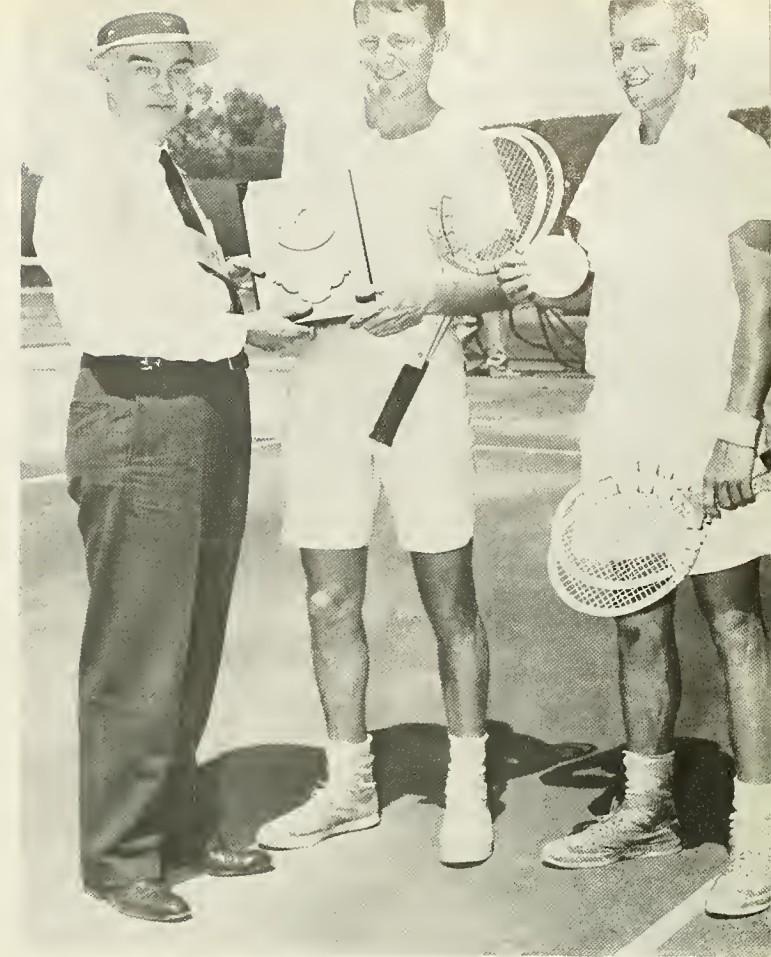

COACH EMMETT PARE

Coach Pare lost only two members of the all-winning '53 team, Wickersham and Merritt. In their places sophomore Buddy Lomax and freshman Jose Aguero, a 19-year-old Brazilian Davis Cupper from Rio de Janeiro, figured to step in making Tulane a strong favorite to repeat its championship ways in 1954.

With a late-season rush which produced three wins over LSU, Coach Dennis Vinzant's Tulane baseballers compiled an 11-9 record for 1953.

In Southeastern Conference play the diamond Greenies finished second in the Western Division with eight wins and seven losses. Rugged first baseman Pete Vogt was Tulane's batting star for '53 and righthander Jack Campione wound up with the best pitching mark.

Vogt pasted SEC pitching for a lusty .366 average and swatted .316 for the full season. He was selected to the all-SEC first team at first base by an Associated Press coaches' poll.

Campione, who appeared both as a starter and relief man, blazed past five conference foes without a loss for the top SEC pitching won-lost record.

Another righthander, Ray Weidenbacher, was the workhorse of the Wave hill staff. Drawing many of the tough assignments, Weidenbacher rode out the season with a 2-2 record. Lefty Doug Regan posted a 3-3 mark.

Shortstop Milt Retif trailed Vogt in season batting marks with a .300 reading. Catcher Don Lloyd was next with .281.

Vogt, Campione, Retif and Lloyd joined a handful of returning lettermen to form the nucleus for the 1954 edition of Vinzant's crew.

Other returnees were outfielders Wilbur Connelly, Carlos Leiva and Les Kennedy (who missed the 1953 campaign with a fractured wrist); infielders Bill Fleming, Jimmy Nissell and Ed Rubenstein.

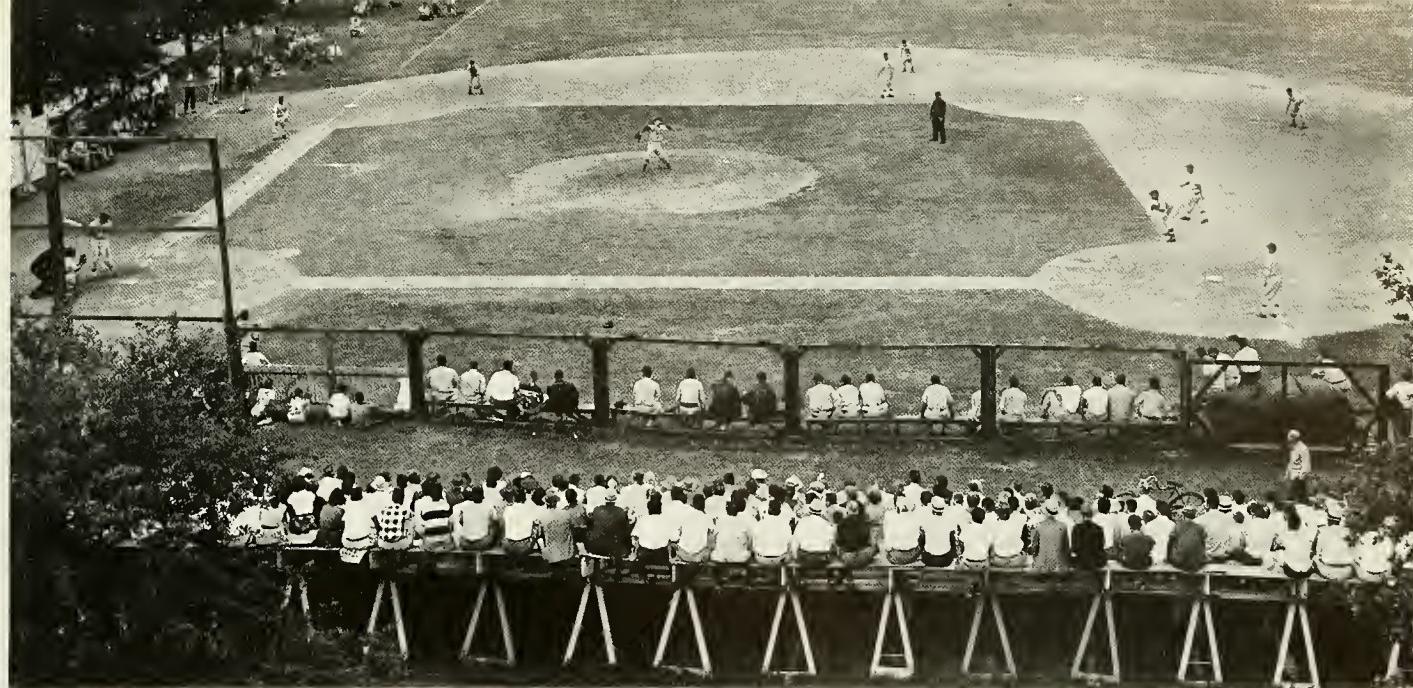

Besides his holdovers, Coach Vinzant counted heavily on a crop of freshmen candidates to strengthen his club into a division contender.

The opening lineup for 1954 leaned strongly toward the veterans with Kennedy (lf), Leiva (rf), Rubenstein (3b), Nissell (ss), Fleming (2b), Vogt (1b), and Lloyd (c) virtual cinches for starting jobs. Every starter had earned at least one letter. Tulane's pitching was also "Time-tested" with lettermen Campione and Jim Weilbacher heading the list.

The resurrection of track—long a “weak sister” of the Tulane athletic department—was one of the bright spots of the 1953 sports story.

Strengthened by one of the largest pre-season turnouts in recent years the Greenie field and cinder men represented Tulane in the Southern Relays, the Southwestern Relays, the Southeastern Conference meet where the Wave finished third and the Central collegiate outing as well as several dual meets.

Though meet victories were few, there were many outstanding individual performances turned in by Wave tracksters. Senior Hainon Miller established a new school mark for the mile run of 4 minutes, 20 seconds. Big George Cummins brought the SEC titles in both the shot put and javelin throw to Tulane. He heaved the shot 49 feet, 8 inches and hurled the javelin 148 feet, 3 inches.

Cummins and Miller were the only major losses to the '54 squad, and coaches “Fritz” Oakes and John Oelkers had high hopes of continuing the improvement in Tulane's track fortunes.

Veteran distance man Mark McCoy headed the list of returnees. Art Alderson, a brawny shot-putter also was expected to add points for the Greenies. In other departments Oakes and Oelkers counted on Southern AAU javelin champ Frank Dalferes, Otis Gilmore for middle-distance events; Harold Hawkins also for the javelin; Willie Hof in the dashes; and Les Kennedy, who was second-best in the SEC broad-jump event in '53. All but Dalferes, Alderson and McCoy were Tulane footballers as well as standout trackmen.

COACH INNES MILLAR

G O L F

Tulane's 1953 golf squad notched only one victory, but with the return of five lettermen, Coach Innes Millar nursed hopes for great improvement in 1954.

"Speed" Bancroft, Dick Lyle, Jerry Schenken, Stanton Schuler, and Neal Hobson comprise the returning Wave linksmen.

In addition to a 1953 slate of six dual meets, Coach Millar's stroders sent Schuler, Hobson, and Lyle to Athens, Ga., for a shot at the Southern Collegiate glitter. The competition was too much, however, and the quartette came home with experience—but not much else.

The Greenies grabbed their only 1953 win from Spring Hill, 10-8. Losses were to Spring Hill, 6-12; Pensacola Naval Air Station, 8-10; Louisiana Tech, 41½-13½; and twice to LSU, 8-19, and 2-25.

MISS PAULINE TULANE

Few would argue that girls are chosen for beauty courts on the basis of their looks alone—or upon what constitutes beauty. Personality, sororities, and all sorts of tangibles and intangibles play an important role in school elections. Yet, no matter how important is the irrelevant, each voter likes to think that his choice for so-called beauty, is—at her best—truly beautiful.

There were 92 nominees for Miss Pauline Tulane this year. All girls regularly enrolled in Tulane or Newcomb except freshmen and last year's returning beauties—Mignon Faget, Carol Clark, Nancy Liljenstein, and Nancy Lawson—were eligible. From the 15 finalists chosen by JAMB-staff members and other student leaders the student body elected to reign at the Pan-Hellenic Formal: Pat McGee, Helen Harris, Cynthia Forchheimer, Diane Bell, Libby Allegret, Dixie Bader, and Nancy McIver, Miss Pauline Tulane.

Intra

Intramural athletics provided recreation for an estimated 2,000 Tulanians during 1953-54. And with construction of more dormitories on campus Tulane's I-M program is expected to grow within the next few years.

In September Ben Abadie, a former Tulane baseball player and graduate in '49, was called in to take over the expanding I-M program as director of intramurals.

Under Abadie's guidance 10 different sports were organized. Football, basketball, softball, tennis, handball, cross-country, pool, volleyball, ping-pong and bridge made up the list.

Teams were formed from various divisions of the university as well as several independent groups and clubs. Chemical Engineering Seniors nailed down the 1953 football title, edging the A. & S. Seniors in the finals, going unbeaten, untied and unscorched-upon in I-M play.

Following the grid campaign, the third annual Frosh-Soph game was held Dec. 19. Wayne Wall and Les Kennedy of the varsity squad coached the two teams to a gruelling 0-0 tie.

The Architects copped the volleyball championship. Other champs were decided too late to be reported in the '54 JAMBALAYA.

murals

It was another busy year for Pan-Hellenic activities as Phi Delta Theta garnered the Pan-Hel Cup for 1953.

The award goes to the Tulane fraternity which amasses the most points in competition with other houses in several fields.

Major sports such as football, basketball, softball, volleyball and track were offered. Minor sports included ping-pong, bowling, tennis, swimming, handball and bridge.

The annual Skit Night, the Pan-Hel song fest, competition between houses for original Homecoming decorations and average scholarship index of each house also provided opportunities to add points toward the Pan-Hel Cup ownership.

Beginning with the 1953-54 school year the point system was overhauled. Winners of major sports received 15 points instead of 10, as in the past.

Kappa Alpha was the 1953 football champion. Other Pan-Hel winners were crowned too late for coverage in the JAMBALAYA.

The Tulane Pan-Hellenic Council, the regulating body for the seventeen social fraternities on the campus, is composed of two members elected by each of the member fraternities. The Council sponsors a diversified program of inter-fraternity competition throughout the year, awarding a trophy for each event and for the best overall yearly record.

Shortly after classes started, the Council held a welcoming banquet for all fraternity pledges. Before initiation week the Council sponsored the annual Greek Week, which consisted of a series of discussions among Chapter officers and pledges and a convocation at which Dr. Fred H. Turner, Dean of Students at the University of Illinois, spoke.

Greek Week was climaxed by the Pan-Hellenic Formal, at which the 1954 JAMBALAYA Beauty Court was presented.

BETA THETA PYRE

The sons of the dragon are sturdy and staunch
 Ever ready to drink up the brew,
 But when you are eager to fill up your paunch
 You're soaked till you're wet thru and thru.
 "Where there's smoke, there's flame, let's give it a douse."
 They said when our home caught on fire,
 "So let's go down to the Beta House."
 Now we're guarding the Beta Theta Pyre.

S.A.M.'S SONG

Our football team
Lost every game;
For basketball.
Ditto: the same . . .
To "party-out"
Without a doubt
Our only aim.
The pledges now
All wear a pin,
They'll all join in
When the members sin:
Drinking whisky.
Being riskey,
And cards to win.

“BUNDLES OF JOY”

The Sigma Chi's are real gone guys
To them its go-go-go!
They leave all the girls enraptured with sighs,
Ho-Ho-Ho!
Their parties used to be the greatest
All they did was sing—
But now that dancing is the latest—
They still sing!!

WE LEFT OUR REGARDS ON BROADWAY

Disparaging love is close to hate.

Each ZBT gave up a date

They banished girls

For one whole week

And each one thought

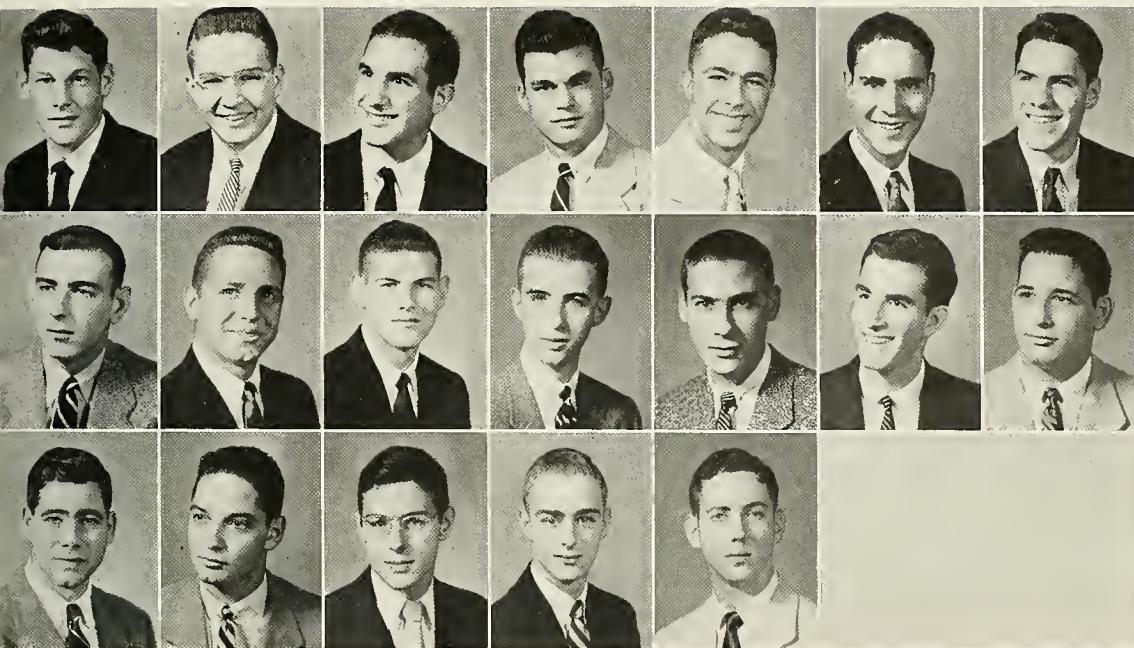

Himself a shiek.

Because the Zebes refused to flirt

The girls delivered scented dirt.

NEWCOMB FAIRYLAND

There was an old college known as TU
 Who had so many sororities it didn't know what to do;
 There was Chi O and Kappa, Phi Mu and ADPi,
 Pi Phi, BSO, Delta Zeta, AOPi, AE Phi.
 The activities bounded
 By sororities surrounded,
 And competition reigned
 While new means were founded,
 To better the campus, the sororities as well,
 While plans in the making hegan to jell:
 First there was Song Fest, where all joined in song
 To collect money and to please the happy throng
 Of mothers, fathers, faculty, and friend,
 To discover the winner for which all did contend.
 Later in the year an event known as Skit Night
 Gave all a chance as new stars to shine bright;
 While Derby Day took place one day in the spring
 To discover to which group new honor it would bring.
 And then came Campus Carnival at the end of the year
 Where sorority booths brought in money so dear;
 But behind the scenes, in the sole of the shoe
 There's a deeper story of the girls who Work tirelessly and eagerly for the cause;
 Listen while to tell this story we pause.

EPSILON CHAPTER OF

LET'S PAT OURSELVES ON THE BACK

It happened many years ago at ole' Tulane
 That "AEPhi are pigs" was a familiar refrain.
 But now they're "bunny rabbits" even to their pals
 'Cause they've produced so many, many gals.
 But when it comes to spirit and talent galore
 They've got them both and even more.

"HOW CUTE CAN YOU GET"

There's a bee hive I've seen
 Where there's more than one queen.
 You can hear them all buzz,
 (They call it singing, cuz)
 Where they primp and priss and preen.
 They're quite the tear-jerkers during rush
 All full of cooing and wooing and mush
 As they chant X and a horseshoe
 They look like the Indians do,
 But let's say they're "precious" and hush.

AS WE SEE US

There once was a house, which was lovely and dreary,
His coats was all dirty, his porches were weary,
When along came some girls with a key for a pin,
And the house was done over, both outside and in.
By Rush Week the old house was practically new,
And no longer lonely, though outside quite blue.
The sounds which he heard were of singing and laughter,
And the happiness welled 'till it reached every rafter.
There were all sorts of plans, and the walls listened well
There were houseparties, dances, they all sounded swell
There were lunches and suppers, and gathers snappy.
So the sounds from the Kappa House always were happy.
As others see us
Now, a Kappa could never make a flappa
Cause for rowdy noise, she doesn't give a rappaa.
So she sits with her hands folded in her lappa,
And hopes some man will trap her.

LOUISIANA ALPHA CHAPTER OF

PI PHIS DON'T

Mary had a little girl,
She sent her off to college,
She sent her first to pledge Pi Phi,
And then to get some knowledge.
The Pi Phi's have a little house
Which is completely green,
And inside many debutantes and diamond rings are seen.
They'd like to have a brand new house.
But they most probably won't,
They'd like to burn the old house down,
But can't, cause "Pi Phis' don't!"

Alpha Kappa Kappa Fraternity owes its beginning to a group of students at Dartmouth Medical School who on September 29, 1888, met and organized our fraternity. These men had no idea that their organizing step was the first in the formation of an international brotherhood of men engaged in the study and practice of medicine. Since that time, forty three more chapters have been established in all parts of the United States and in Canada. Men widely known for their contributions to medical knowledge and for their Sacrificial service to mankind are highly numbered in the ranks of Alpha Kappa Kappa.

Alpha Beta Chapter of Alpha Kappa Kappa of the Tulane University School of Medicine had its origin in 1903 with ten charter members making 1953 our golden anniversary year.

Nu Sigma Nu was founded at the University of Michigan in 1882. Beta Iota Chapter was established at Tulane in 1910.

Nu Sig had a very successful rush season with many fine parties. Subsequent social events included several impromptu "knee walkers" at the Bamboo Lounge and the "Hole." That crazy Christmas party was the highight of the winter season.

Eminent surgeon Dr. Fred Coller, chief of surgery at the University of Michigan, was the guest speaker at the annual Rudolph Matas Lectureship held in honor of Nu Sigma Nu's greatest alumnus.

The Spring Formal and annual Spring Picnic were highly successful, rounding out a satisfying year.

Pi Chapter of Theta Kappa Psi climaxed another highly successful Rush Season on February 20 with the initiation of 17 new members. The events of the Rush Season—a barbecue, a dance, and a shrimp party—were thoroughly enjoyed by the members and the incoming freshman class.

A hayride, the annual Christmas Party, the famous Cadaver Ball, the Spring Formal, and the Spring Picnic were the scheduled events of the social calendar for 1953-54 at 4617 Prytania St. Several informal house parties and smokers were also enjoyed by the members and their guests.

Theta Kappa Psi, the oldest of the medical fraternities, had its origin in 1879. Pi Chapter was founded at Tulane University in 1904, and has since provided several generations of distinguished medical leaders. Pi Chapter looks forward to playing its part in the training of the new doctors who will continue the present rapid advancement of the medical profession.

OMICRON CHAPTER OF

Phi Chi was founded at the University of Vermont in 1889 and Omicron Chapter has been at Tulane since December 20, 1902.

Famous for quiet parties and clean skits, they are proud of the C. Jeff Miller library and their beautiful house which received some new furniture and a television set during the year.

Outstanding events of the year were a very successful rush program, the Christmas Formal and the Spring Formal in honor of the graduating seniors, and the Founder's Day Banquet in honor of the alumni. After dinner "bull sessions" with members of the faculty proved stimulation to all concerned.

Sparked by good leadership and fellowship, the year was a good one for Omicron and Phi Chi.

Did You Know...

... Shakespeare called it a luxury?

In "Winter's Tale," Shakespeare alludes to rice as a great luxury in England.

... the Chinese made a religious ceremony of its planting?

An ancient Chinese script records this ceremonial of 5,000 years ago.

... the Burmese include it among the gifts of God?

The Burmese account of Creation states, "Thus God created man. God made food and drink, rice, fire and water, cattle, elephants and birds."

... an emperor developed an irrigation system for it?

Emperor Yu, about 2356 B.C., according to Chinese classics, constructed a system of rice irrigation.

... a hurricane blew it to America?

Most sources agree that the first rice seeds were planted here after a sailing vessel bound for Liverpool was blown off its course and landed at Charleston. The captain left a small bag of rough rice with the Colony's governor, and this was the start of rice cultivation in America.

And ... did you know ...

rice is the basic food for over half the world's population?

These are just a few of the reasons we find the rice business a fascinating one. We hope your chosen career will be as interesting and satisfying for you.

GREAT UNIVERSITIES DO NOT "JUST HAPPEN."

Since 1834, integrity, sound direction, creative planning, progressive policies efficiently carried through, are some of the factors that have contributed to the development of Tulane from a humble beginning to its present dominant position among Southern Universities.

These same factors constitute a solid framework for success within any field of endeavor.

OPEN FROM 11 A. M. to 12:30 A.M.

GERMAINE CAZENAVE WELLS

Owner of Arnaud's Restaurant, daughter of the late Count Arnaud, founder of the restaurant that bears his name, as well as creator of many famous Creole and French dishes famed throughout the world.

ARNAUD'S—Selected the best restaurant of the South for the 2000th anniversary of the founding of the City of Paris.

Few are the people who set foot on the sidewalk of New Orleans who do not seek to learn the location of Arnaud's and forthwith journey there to enjoy this famous cuisine. After partaking of a notable meal, guests frequently ask the derivation of a particular dish: "Is it French?" "Is it Spanish?" The answer is that it is a combination of the wizardry of the French with the art of Spanish to make Arnaud's masterpieces.
